Honourable Sir

Greetings of Peace and Development through Prosperity!

The COVID-19 pandemic has forced a massive education experiment: nearly all teaching and learning in India through higher education, shifted online in the space of a few weeks, and for an indefinite period of time. The corona virus has given us an opportunity to optimize. As different sectors begin to grapple with the long-term ramifications of the current crisis, the possibility of enhancing and diversifying workforce skills through remote learning options remains a stabilizing constant — and the need for more robust and coordinated efforts is greater than ever. Online education has been shown to be our resilient system — there is no substitute now for it.

After the successful conduction of maiden webinar of the IOED on Virtual Education, the IOED in association with Atal Bihari Vajpayee Vishwavidyalaya (Public State University), Bilaspur, Chhattisgarh is organizing a webinar on 24th May, 2020.
